

I WANT TO CONTINUE TO FIGHT FOR YOU

A few weeks ago, I officially filed my papers to run for re-election as County Commissioner in the 2nd District (Loretto). The reason I decided to seek re-election was simple: I love this county and its people and want us to keep progressing into the future.

I have heard some people suggest Lawrence County should close its doors and become a "retirement community". I completely reject that notion. We have to keep moving forward and fighting for a better future for all Lawrence Countians.

Being from a younger generation, I have a stake in the future of our county. I want to see my generation have the same opportunity past generations have had to live and raise their families in Lawrence County. So for me, this race is not about politics or anything else, it's about my family and yours and what kind of future we can build for our country - together.

During these tough times, Lawrence County needs a strong leader who will fight for new jobs, lower taxes and a better education for our children. I have fought for those things the past four years and would be honored to continue to fight for them. I look forward to meeting with you and hearing your concerns in the coming months and earning your support.
